VILLA ELUDES HIS PURSUERS

Chase Delayed Until American Lines Can Be Straightened

AN AIR OF PESSIMISM

Hope of Early Successful Man Hunt Abandoned—Present Force Drained and Few Following

San Antonio, Tex. April 55—Admitting that Villa has escaped to the south, Major General Funston declares the bandit chief probably is headed for the Parral district, with "very few" American troops in pursuit.

Explaining this statement, Funston said it is impossible to send a considerable body of soldiers farther south, because of the necessity of protecting the lines of communication.

The present available force has been drained to meet this requirement.

Hope of an early successful ending of the great man-hunt apparently has been abandoned at army headquarters.

General Funston and members of his staff exhibit a pronounced air of pessimism.

Villa's escape from the Guerrero district was due to misformation given the army officers by the bandit's friends and sympathizers, according to staff officers here.

Funston himself frankly admitted that a continuation of the chase south ward must be backed up by a stronger force than at present is available.

There were no casualties among the 200 negro troopers in Colonel Brown's Tenth Cavalry command.

Funston believes the bandits who burned two bridges north of Monolova yesterday are Villistas, but is not certain, and admits himself somewhat at sea concerning the leader of this enemy faction. There have been no reports to headquarters of disaffections among Carranzistas, except a circumstantial account of Col-Cano's alleged pro-Villa sympathies, which was later denied.

LATEST AIR RAID FAIL

London Says No Damage Was Done In Monday Night's Visit of Zeppelins

London, April, 5—No damage was coused by Monday night's Zeppelin raid it is announced officially and there were no casualties. The statement follows:

"A Zeppelin is reported to have crossed the East Anglian coast between 2 and 3 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning. The airships does not seem to have been long over the land.

"Although several explosions are reported, no fragments of bombs have been discovered up to date.

"No damage was caused and no casualties have been traced."

The funerals of 24 victims of Friday night's Zeppelin raid took place yesterday in an east coast town. The entire town was in mourning and business was suspended during the passage of the procession to the cemetery and the interment of the bodies. Thousands of persons lined the route of a mile to the cemetery.

Berlin, April 5—Another Zeppelin raid on the British coast was made on Monday night, the Admiralty announces. The fortifications near Yarmouth were attacked and the airships returned safely. The statement follows:

'On the night of April 3-4 German naval airships attacked the southeast coast of England and threw explosive bombs on the fortifications near Great Yarmouth. Although they were shelled ,the airships returned safely"

This was the fourth successive night raid over England. Yarmouth is a North Sea port with extensive shipping interest. It is 19 miles east of Norwich, in a section of the east coast country which has been attacked by Zeppelins on several occasions.

REHEARING REFUSED.

Supreme Court Definitely Closes Long Drawn Out Litigation Aagainst Car Company.

Richmond, April 5.—The State Supreme Court of Appeals refused yesterday to reopen the case of D. C. O'Flaherty against the Virginia Railway and Power Company, and entered an order denying the petition for a rehearing. The case is now definitely closed.

O'Flaherty brought suit in the Law and Equity Court for damages in the sum of $15,000, for alleged false arrest by a conductor of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, who took him into custody when he refused to comply with the company's regulation requiring passengers on prepayment cars to deposit their fares in person. The Law and Equity Court gave him $500 damages.

From this judgment the power company appealed. The Supreme Court reversed the lower court and handed down an opinion in which it held that the arrest was justified. Mr. O'Flaherty filed a petition for a rehearing which the Supreme Court yesterday denied, directing the clerk to enter such an order in the case as will close it for all time.

Rehearings were denied in the following cases:

Southern Railway Company against Vaughan's administrator. From Campbell Circuit Court.

Norfolk and Southern Railway against the Norfolk Truckers' Exchange. From the Norfolk City Circuit Court.

Portsmouth Cotton Oil Refining Corporation against Richardson. From the Circuit Court of Norfolk County.

Carpenter against Smithey. From Brunswick Circuit Court.

Haley, Chisholm & Morris against Trice, administratrix. From Brunswick Circuit Court.

Shifflett against Lam. From Greene Circuit Court. Appeal refused.

The following cases were argued yesterday:

Pennsylvania Railroad Co .vs. Jenkins. Argued by Thomas G. Gay, and Eppa Hunton, jr., for the appellant and by R. E. Byrd and D. C. O'Flaherty for the appellee and submitted.

Court adjourned until June 6 at Wytheville.

SECOND DUTCH SHIP IS SUNK

Great Excitement in Holland During Prevailing War Tension

A SUBMARINE VICTIM

War Scare Among People is Causing Much Alarm in the Netherlands—Secret Conference.

The Hague, April 5.—Torpedoing of the Dutch schooner Elzina Helena while Holland is in the grip of a big war scare, has caused great excitement here.

News of the sinking of the schooner in the North Sea reached here early today. A message to her owners said there was no doubt that she had been attacked by a submarine.

The government at once ordered an official inquiry. The probe was opened by naval officers at Rotterdam upon the arrival of the schooner's crew there today. The government at the same time ordered an official investigation of the sinking of the Dutch liner Tubantia, the previous inquiries having been conducted by the vessel's owners.

The tension increased today when the general committee of the lower chamber met in secret session.

It was rumored that the committee, to allay public fears, will issue a statement, setting forth the reasons for Holland's military activities, or at least giving assurances that there is no immediate danger of war.

No one, outside official circles, knows exactly what development in the European war situation caused the recall of soldiers on leave of absence. Editorial speculation is divided strictly according to the sympathies of the newspapers.

The pro-ally Telegraaf declares the government acted because of the fear that Germany is about to violate Holland's neutrality. The pro-German papers, on the other hand, declare England has demanded the right to land an army in Holland for the invasion of Germany, or has demanded the closing of the Dutch frontier.

That portion of the press which is not swayed by outside sympathies refrains almost entirely from speculation.

STEAMER MAJESTIC

New Addition to Potomac Flotilla Goes Into Commission Today

Completed and ready for service except in the matter of a few minor details ,the new steel Majestic, the latest addition to the fleet of the Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Company will leave this afternoon on her initial trip over the Nomini-Lower Machodoc route of the P. and C. line, on which she will be employed.

Her schedule calls for leaving this port each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday at 4 p. m. for thirty-six hour trips to the lower river, during which she visits many landings in the lower end of the Potomac, including Colonial Beach.

Steamboat experts say the Majestic is by far the handsomest boat that has ever been on the route. She has forty-two bright and airy staterooms all outside fitted with metal beds or berths. Her saloons and dining-rooms are new apartments constructed in a most skillful manner. On her hurricane deck is a smoking room that will prove popular with the masculine traveling public.

The fittings of the steamer are new throughout, and she compares in elegance with any steamer on the Potomac. The steamer has a reputation for speed, and in the coming summer it is thought, she will be popular for Potomac River trips, Capt. R. B. Reed will command the new vessel and Charles Tennesson, of this city, will have charge of her engine room. George Guest will be purser of the Majestic, with John Hungerford as his assistant.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Dr. Thomas M. Dunn, 80 years old, of Free Union, Albermarle county, former member of the State Senate and of the House of Delegates, died Monday night. Dr. Dunn served throughout the civil war as a field surgeon in the Confederate Army.

Polling as many votes as his two opponents combined Mayor George Ainslie was yesterday nominated in the Democratic primary to succeed himself as Mayor of Richmond, His opponents were O. A Hawkins and Robert Lecky, Jr., the Nomination is equivalent to election, as the Republican vote in the general election is not sufficient to elect.

Colonel J. Thomas Goode, who was an officer in the Confederate army and for a number of years a member of the Virginia House of Delegates, died Monday at his home in Chase City, aged eighty years. Colonel Goode was the ranking officer of the Confederate Veterans of Virginia, and was one of the best known men in Confederate circles in the South.

"I am prepared for the worst. I believe in God and that He will take care of me. I have no statement to make to the public. I do not confess or deny anything." With his hands clasped tightly about a prayer book and with his beady black eyes shining with excitement, John Henry Williams, self-confessed negro assailant of 15 year old Mamie Mason, of Nottoway county yesterday made the above statement in the Henrico county jail.

Mayor Royster Jester, jr., was nominated to succeed himself as Mayor of Lynchburg, in the Democratic primary yesterday. He defeated Fred Harper by a majority of 422 in a total of 2,120 votes. The fight was generally a "wet" and "dry" one, although Jester drew some "wet" votes and Harper had some "dry" votes cast for him. The result is equivalent to election in the June election, for there will be only Socialist opposition to the Democratic ticket.

Corbet Lindsey a pressing club proprietor was shot and almost instantly killed last night by a man who, according to the police, is Sam Burwell who escaped after the affray. The shooting took place at Schoolfield, near Danville, following a quarrel, which is alleged to have taken place between the two men. Witnesses saw Lindsey's antagonist shoot at him four times, and, when they found him he had fallen from the porch dead. Burwell is believed to have caught a southbound freight train fifteen minutes after the tragedy.

After confessing, according to the police that she sent boxes of poisoned "April Fool" candy to the Kyger sisters, Mrs. Margaret Sipe, aged 55, was placed in jail at Grottoes Rockingham county yesterday. Mrs. Sipe, is alleged to have admitted a strong dislike for the sisters because of the attention of her son, and to have said "the devil made her put poison in the candy and sent it to them." Boxes of the candy were received through the mail by Lilly Kyger and her sister, Mrs. Hattie Baugher, of Basic City. These two and a young sister, Cora, became ill from eating the candy and are now out of danger. The woman's daughter, Lessie Sipe, told the police she wrote the "April Fool" notes inclosed in the boxes, at her mother's request, but did not suspect the candy was poisoned.

Workmen who are making extensive repairs necessary for the safety of St. Stephens's Episcopal Church in Culpeper, the walls of which were crumbling, yesterday unearthed a corner-stone in which were the remains of a cedar box, which contained papers, two coins, one a 25-cent piece of 1870, and the other a kuaint 12 1-2 cent piece of 1805. A copper plate was also among the relics, on which was the following inscription: "James Monroe, President of the United States, 46th year of American Independence; John H. Purdy, Grand Master of Virginia; Jeremiah Strother, master; William Ward, senior warden; Richard K. Fields, junior warden; Fairfax Lodge, No. 43, 8th of September, A. L. 51, A. D. 1821." The number A. L. 51, referred to the age of Fairfax Lodge, which had been established in Culpeper in Colonial days, and is still in flourishing condition.

TEUTONS MAKE MIGHTY ATTACKS

Strike With Fierceness to Offset Minds of Neutrals

LAUNCH THREE MOVES

Zeppelin Raids, Torpedoing, Hard Blows at Verdun and Prepare for Naval Demonstration.

London, April 5— On land, sea and in the air the Germans are now striking with attacks of unparalleled fierceness, presumably to offset in the mind of neutrals and their own people the results of the Paris conference of the allies.

Four Zeppelin attacks in as many days, torpedoings averaging four daily and mighty hammerings at the gates of Verdun bear evidence that the Kaiser has ordered a great demonstration of his military and naval strength.

The three phases of the German offensive opened simultaneously with the closing of the allied ring of steel around the central empires.

The Berlin papers now emphasize the fact that the new Zeppelin raids mean the beginning of the most active warfare on England, demanded by the main committee of the Reichstag.

Count von Reventlow makes this point in the Tages Zeitung and urges that the Zeppelin raids make every night one of terror for Londoners.

Berlin, April 5—Hard pressed by the Germans at Verdun, France has asked England to extend the British lines from the river Somme to the bend of the French line at Soissons, according to information received here today. By this shift, 150,000 French troops would be released for action on the Verdun front.

IMPORTANCE OF VERDUN.

Real Reason Germans are Now Hazarding Such Tremendous Losses in Human Life.

J. W. T. Mason, a noted American authority on the war says:.

Germany's violent effort to capture Verdun, at such huge cost of life, means the Kaiser is preparing for the time when his troops will be compelled to shorten their western line of defense by evacuating most of Northern France and Belgium.

The Verdun offensive is in reality a defensive campaign.

It is an effort to secure a vastly important point of vantage, which can serve as Germany's final point of retreat, if the war is to be fought to a condition of complete exhaustion for one side or the other.

To hold entrenchments under modern conditions or warfare against attacks such as can be developed by fighting machines like the British and French armies, requires a defensive force of between 3,000 and 5,000 men per mile.

These figures are the two extremes. A fair average of the number of men Germany, now has along the western front is 4,000 per mile. In some areas this number is less and at other points it is more, but in all probability the average is approximately 4,000 per mile.

The curving western front from Ostend to Verdun measures about 250 miles. To hold this section of the western line Germany must employ 1,000,000 men. That is, the continuous minimum must be 1,000,000 men. The number can never be allowed to fall below that level if the German defenses are to be made safe agaist attack. Casualties must be immediately replaced by fresh troops and for this reason the drain on German manhood must grow more and more serious as the war proceeds.

There is no certain rule for determining the wastage of men at the front, but it was recently stated by the British government that British units must be completely replaced every six months. If this holds true for the Germans as well, 2,000,000 new men must be found each year to hold the German lines between Ostend and Verdun.

The time must inevitably come, as the war progresses, when it will no longer be feasible for the Germans to supply so huge a number of their citizens for the firing line. The allies are largely superior to the Teutonic powers in population, and it is a simple problem in arithmetic as to which side can better afford the wastage of its men at the present disquieting rate.

With Verdun and Liege impregnably held by the Germans, the Kaiser would have enormous negotiable power in his pssession, even though all of France and Belgium west of the Liege-Verdun front were evacuated. This fact, therefore, is the reason why the Germans are now so presistent in their attacks agains Verdun. If the western front is to remain at its present length the price the Kaiser is paying for Verdun is altogether too high. It is a reckless waste of manhood. But if the German general staff has decided that eventually Northern France and Belgium must be laregly given up, then the Verdun operations acquire a new meaning and the German losses have not been lightly ordered. The capture of Verdun then would be partial compensation for the abandonment of the territory to the west.

FRENCH FORCE GERMANS BACK

Retreat in Disorder Before Withering Curtain of Fire

SUFFER GREAT LOSS

Berlin Report Tells of Capture of French Positions and Admits British Success.

Paris, April 5.—A powerful German attack against the first lines of the French south of Douaumont was repulsed yesterday and the Germans were driven back in the direction of Chauffour wood, which lies to the northwest, The French artillery concentrated their fire on the retiring Germans, who, according to the official statement issued by the French War Office, suffered considerable loss.

On the west of the Meuse a German attack against Haucourt failed.

London, April 5—The British official communication issued yesterday evening says:

"Yesterday a German machine was shot down by one of our aviators behind our lines south of Souchez, The pilot and observer were killed.

"Today the artillery of both sides has been active about Souchez, Angres, St. Eloi and Ypres. There has been some mining activity about Nevuville, St. Vaast, Hullich and Hohenzollern redoubt."

Berlin, April 5. — Strong French positions southwest of Douaumont and in the Caileette Wood, northeast of Verdun, have been taken by German troops, the War Office announces

Recapture by the British of a mine crater at St. Eloi, south of Ypres, which the Germans had been occupying, is also recorded in the official statement, the text of which is as follows:

"Western theatre: After powerful artillery preparation the British have taken possession of the crater south of St. Eloi, which we took from them on March 28.

"In the region of the fortress of Douaumont our troops, after bitter fighting, captured on April 2, some strong French defense positions southwest and south of the fortress and in Caillette Wood. They repulsed from the captured positions all the enemy's counter-attacks, which continued into the night. Employing exceedingly strong forces and at the cost of extremely heavy sacrifices, the French repeatedly and fruitlessly stormed the defense positions which they had lost in Caillette Wood.

"During our attacks on April 2 we captured in unwounded prisoners 19 officers and 745 men and 8 machine guns.

"Eastern theatre: The situation is unchanged. The enemy's artillery has shown increased activity only north of Vidzy and between Narocz and Wiszniew Lakes."

Austrian army headquarters in Vienna issued the following statement:

"The artillery on both sides has been active in the Doberdo sector, near Malborgeth, at Col di Lana and in the Giudicarian Alps.

"Austro-Hungarian troops have occupied the border between Lobbia Alta and Monte Fumo."

MR. FISHER RE-ELECTED

Present Incumbent of Mayor's Office Receives 59 Majority Over James M. Duncan

After a day's contest at the polls, the like of which Alexandria has not seen for many years, Mayor Thomas A. Fisher, was renominated yesterday for mayor by the narrow margin of 59 votes. The campaign which had been simmering for the three months since the candidates announced themselves grew in enthusiasm within a few hours preceding the election and the greatest activity on the part of the candidates and their friends marked the waning moments of the campaign. Not until the votes were counted was there any indication of how the town had gone, a large vest pocket vote having been cast.

Mayor Fisher carried two wards, the second and the fourth, the first ward was a tie and the third went for Duncan, by majority of 8. The vote in the wards was as follows: First, Fisher 164, Duncan 164; Second, Fisher 203, Duncan 156; Third, Fisher 199, Duncan 207; Fourth Fisher 208, Duncan 183. Total, Fisher 769, Duncan 710.

Owing to being defective a number of votes were thrown out and the total vote was in excess of 1,500 which is a very heavy vote for a Democratic primary, the total registration of the city being less than 1,800.

The greatest excitement prevailed throughout the city as the vote was being canvassed. The polls closed at 6:25 and it was nearly 8 o'clock when the first returns were received from the fourth ward, giving Fisher a majorit yof 20 votes.A half hour later the third ward reported that Duncan's majority was 8 cutting Fisher's lead down to 12. The interest grew when the judges of the first ward announced that the vote was a tie, each candidate receiving 164 votes. This still left Fisher a lead of 12 which was increased to 59 when the second ward was heard from.

The primary is equivalent to an election and Mayor Fisher will have no opposition in the general election which will be held on June 13th. His new term, which begins September 1st, is for four years.

In the second ward in a race for councilmanic honors in which Henry K. Field, R. D. Brumback, and Jerome Kaufman, were the contestants the first two were winners, the vote being as follows: Field, 212; Brumback, 189; Kaufman, 157. Mr. Brumback now represents the second ward in council and Mr. Field, who is president of the board of aldermen has recently moved into the second ward.

Members of council chosen in the three wards without opposition were as follows: Board, of aldermen, First ward, F. F. Marbury; Second, W. W. Ballenger; Third, J. T. Harrison; Fourth, J. B. Fitzgerald; Common council, First, H. W. Smith, and Taylor Burke; Third, A. J. Pohl and H. R. Burke; Fourth, Albert Bryan and Clinton S. Ballenger.

The commissioners of election will meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the office of the clerk of the corporation court and canvass the ballots.

LITTLE BOY IS KILLED

Francis Trux, Eight Years Old, Falls In Front of Approaching Automobile

A coronors jury met this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Demaine's undertaking establishment for the purpose of inquiring into the death of Francis Trux, who was killed by an automobile yesterday afternoon at five o'clock on King street between Alfred and Columbus streets. The jury is composed of G. N. Cradlin, A. S. Doniphan, J. Fred Birrell, Philip Heishley, Lorenzo Wolford and C. A. Strauss. City Coronor T. M. Jones is conducting the inquiry. The jury viewed the body last night and adjourned over until today.

The little Trux boy, who is 8 years old and a son of Mrs. Bessie M. Trux and lived with his mother at 115 S. St. Asaph street, was run over by the automobile of H. P. Wilson, of Hollin Hall, Fairfax county, which was driven by Harry Shirley. The boy was placed in the machine and a record run made for the Alexandria Hospital, but the child was dead when that institution was reached. His skull had been crushed.

Shirley went to headquarters and gave himself up and is being held pending the result of the coronor's inquest. According to his story the machine was being operated at a moderate speed when the boy ran in front of the car and slipped.

Washington Lady Gives Testimonial in Hope of Helping Others

Dreco is new. In a brief time it has sprung into great prominence. There is no known medicine so effective in combating those prevailing ailments which are sapping the life and energy of the people, namely, stomach and nervous disorders.

Many men and women who have suffered from stomach liver and kidney trouble are now enjoying perfect health, due to Dreco, as their numerous testimonials will show.

Mrs. C. M. Hauser, 211 Sixth street northeast, who is one of the best-known ladies in Washington in her signed statement said, "For many years I have suffered with gastritis, headaches, nervousness, constipation, loss of appetite and sleep, a sluggish liver, and was loosing flesh all the time. I got in such a weakened state that I could not eat anything without it causing gas to collect in my stomach and pain me very much. All the treatments I had taken seemed to do no good, and I was just about ready to give up in despair when a friend advised me to take Dreco as it had done her so much good. Right from the first does it seemed to help me as it soothed my stomach. I have continued the treatment and now I am in fine shape and eat anything I want, sleep fine, appetite good, constipation entirely relieved and I have gained about six pounds. My husband is a civil war veteran and both of us feel that we cannot speak too highly of this remarkable medicine." Dreco acts like magic in stomach troubles, gas fermentation, heavy distressed feeling, and constipation yields very quickly. It attacks and destroys the poisons in the blood, corrects diseased conditions of the liver and kidneys and restores them to normal action. Dreco is sold in Alexandria by Allen's at $1.00 a bottle. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

A majority of the democratic voters of the city of Alexandria yesterday determined to make Thomas A. Fisher the successor to himself as Mayor of the city. They saw no good reason why Mr. Fisher, who has given the position his undivided attention during the past four years, should not be honored with a second term, which is a sort of unwritten law among us.

There can be no doubt that Mr. Fisher has kept his eyes wide open in the interests of the people he represents since he took the oath of office September 1st., 1912, While he has kept within touch with things without, he has been equally wide-awake to those within, and has closely scrutinized and weighed carefully every act of the City Council, not losing sight of the fact that he is a part of the legislative branch of the city. When errors have been discovered or inadvertence apparent, his courteous communications to Council have resulted in votes sustaining him.

There are always more or less promises on the part of candidates of what will be done in the event of changes in administrations. Those who make them no doubt believe in their feasability, but it is one thing to build air castles and another to bring about their crystalization. Mr. Fisher has the city's interest at heart as much as any official or one of the rank and file, and that he will be ever ready to accelerate her interest goes without saying. His past official life is an earnest of what we may always expect of him.

Mr. Fisher was elected Mayor four years ago by a landslide. While there was no tidal wave yesterday, his vote shows that the majority of the people are satisfied with his administration.

Mr. Duncan made a good race and would have made a good mayor if elected, but the people willed otherwise.

The best credential of officeholders in Alexandria is the fact that there is but little disposition to change these officials. This has long been so with the minor officials. The same confidence was expressed yesterday in the case of the chief executive. There was no good reason why he could not have been given his second term, and the majority determined he should have it.

George W. Smalley died in London Monday. He was born in Norfolk county, Mass. in 1833, for many years he was well known as a journalist and war correspondent.

OTHER CLOSE ELECTIONS.

During the past week it was seen by all who took a survey of the field that the election yesterday would be close, and that the successful candidate would probably win by a nose only. The result shows that the forecast was correct, as Thomas A. Fisher while securing the nomination by a safe majority, did not inflict a Waterloo defeat on his opponent, James M. Duncan. During the early part of the day it was nip and tuck as the two kept head to head in the political stadium, but as the day waned there were faint indications that the present incumbent, while not mounted upon a tidal wave, would forge slightly ahead of his competitor.

When the result of the contest in the Fourth ward was announced, showing a majority of twenty for Mr. Fisher, the friends of his opponent regarded that as an unfavorable omen, as much had been expected by them from that quarter of the city. The announcement that Mr. Duncan had carried the Third ward by eight sent up a slight glare from his camp, but when it was shown that a tie existed in the First ward, and Mr. Fisher still leading his antagonist by twelve majority, all eyes were turned upon the Second ward. It was believed Mr Fisher would carry that ward, and so he did by a majority of forty-seven. A hurrah went up in almost every section as the telephone wires were kept hot in circulating the news.

In 1904 there was an exciting contest for the Mayoralty between the late George L. Simpson, the incumbent, and F. J. Paff, then President of the Common Council. It was impossible to forecast the result, the forces of both being about even in numbers. Mr. Paff was triumphant by the small majority of forty eight.

A more exciting contest still was that between the late John B. Smoot and Robert T. Lucas in 1885. As is occasionally the case, at that time there was an unwise movement in Alexandria to make a change of officials. Some disgruntled democrats were ready to compromise on a republican for Mayor instead of Mr. Smoot. All negroes were allowed to vote at that time, and an inoffensive pump which had long stood upon the southwest corner of Prince and Columbus streets, in front of Mr. Smoot's home, was the most conspicuous issue in the political battle. It had quenched the thirst of thousands probably since colonial days, but about thirty years ago it had become a nuisance in a measure. Most of the darkeys residing in the neighborhood resorted thither, some for the purpose of procuring water, but the greater number, male and female, to gossip and to laugh and quarrel until the wee sma' hours. Mr. Smoot and his neighhours, often had their rest disturbed by loquacious negroes, and he finally obtained permission to change the location of the pump from the corner to the alley south of his residence. The negroes looked upon this act as a sin unto death, while many hostile whites lampooned Mr. Smoot to a great extent. The pump was the main issue, and hundreds of both races rushed to the polls like blind-bridled horses and deposited their ballots for Mr. Lucas. It was feared by Mr. Smoot's friends that he would be unable to stand against this tidal wave, but when the votes were counted it was found that he led by twenty-five.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

The almost instant killing of a seven-year-old boy by an automobile late yesterday afternoon sent a cry of horror not only on King street where the little fellow met his death, but throughout the city as the news traveled from mouth to mouth and over telephone wires. It is the first fatal accident from these modern vehicles which has occurred in this city, although several persons, generally children, have been run down, escaping with minor injuries. It recalls another sad accident forty-three years ago about half a square farther west of the scene of yesterday's fatality, when a little boy had his life crushed out by a street car. Up to 1873 Alexandria had never enjoyed the benefits of a street car line, In that year horse cars began to run from the foot of King street to Stone Bridge. While one was passing on King street, nearly opposite Peabody building, a small boy was struck and almost instantly killed.

The distressing accident yesterday may for a time cause both young and old to exercise care in crossing streets in this day of the automobile. Hundreds are being whisked through the streets, especially on those thoroughfares which have been improved. This vehicle has come to stay and we must give it the right of way when possible. Little children amuse themselves on roller skates and in small wagons or on bicycles or tricycles, and often take great risks. Owners or operators of automobiles dread striking any one, yet there are times when accidents are unavoidable. Of course some persons who operate automobiles are not as careful as they could be, and turning corners suddenly without sounding horns or running at high speed imperils life and limb.

According to reports, the victim of yesterday's accident was running across the street when he fell in front of the oncoming machine which struck him before it could be brought to a stop. This is the way similar accidents have occurred in other cities. Little ones in their innocency seem to imagine everything will get out of their way, and they too often cross streets without looking at what is coming.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Dr. Waite, who caused the deaths of the parents of his wife by poison, coolly places the responsibility of the double murder upon his demon which, he alleges, actuated him to commit the double tragedy. Mrs. Sipe, who, it is said, has confessed to sending poisoned candy to two sisters in Basic City, Va., says the devil made her do it.

"The serpent beguiled me and I did eat," was the defense of Mother Eve. Some of her progeny are still making similar explanations.

EXPECTED ALLIES' DRIVE

(Baltimore American)

Movements in Holland indicate that the government of that country is looking for the storm upon the west before a great while. The expected drive of the Allies, which, it is believed, was all prepared for in the recent conference at Paris of the representatives of the Entente Powers, may involve Holland. It will place that country in a position that at best can be styled exceedingly uncomfortable. The London dispatches indicate that Germany is spreading disquiet in Holland, based upon rumors that the Allies intend to violate its neutrality. This may be done as excuse for the stimulated activity of the Germans upon the Holland border. Holland may thus be made the Greece of the west side, without the double-dealing of Greece. It is not believed that Holland would willingly enter into the war, despite the fact that its sympathies and interests so strongly lean toward the cause of the Allies. But when the full storm breaks Holland may be borne before its might. Wisely anticipating serious hamperings of its freedom of action and commerce, it is now making large purchases of wheat in the United States for its depleted reserve and showing many signs of preparation either for military activity or the incidents of such, as they may affect its neutral relations. Sweden is growing ever more sensitive over British interference with its mails and with its commerce. Sweden may be brought into the war by the issues of the spring campaign.

The Allies evidently have a well-prepared campaign of offensive action planned for the time that shall be regarded as opportune. This may account for the comparative complacency with which the French are observing the intense action of the Germans in their assault upon Verdun and the gradual eating away of the line by the resourceful foe. The fall of Verdun appears in fact only a matter of sufficient time. But Germany is wearing away its resources of men and money and munitions. It is decimating its ranks and reducing its strength. When the progress has been carried on far enough, it is believed that the Allies will begin a counter-offensive that will witness a scale of action beyond anything yet produced by this tremendous war. Germany has sent all her available troops in Belgium to the fighting line. It is a safe hazard that the issue of the victory in the war will be fought out this spring upon the west side. Not absolutely, perhaps, for in case the Allies shall fail to worst their foe, the war would continue, but for Germany to be beaten would mean calamity for the Teuton.

The countries fighting in the Entente number in populations several times greater than are found in the countries fighting upon the side of the Central Powers. Thus in a wearing war, the Teutons would inevitably have to succumb. They cannot afford to have the war wear on, and hence their earnest, feverish and heroic conduct of the actions they undertake. Hence their indisposition to yield at any point, either in the matter of air raids directed against the military works of English cities or in the matter of the use of submarines for the destruction of enemy commerce. They feel that they cannot give up any agency whatever. As they are not by nature a cruel people and certainly have held the torch of civilization as high as any other, it must be assumed that the fear of defeat has begotten a military frenzy. The Allies doubtless know, they fully understand the psychology of the situation, and with much patience and deliberation they are taking time to perfect their plans and complete their equipment for the drive upon which they will count to bring defeat to as brave and indomitable a people as ever took up arms in battle. The expected drive, therefore, is being looked forward to by the world. If it is undertaken and it fails England will be invaded while the Kaiser's men carry the continental action on to Paris.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Queen Victoria of Spain is seriously ill.

Reports from Petrograd state that a railroad watchman named Orloy received a donation from the Czar because he noticed that the railroad was damaged and halted the Czar's train. It is supposed that an attempt against the Czar's life was planned, but frustrated at the eleventh hour by the discovery of the watchman.

The district attorney of Suffolk county, New York, believes that Capt. W. N. Donley, the Babylon, L. I., bayman, was driven insane by a "poison pen" letter written by a woman, Donley on Monday shot five persons, barricaded himself in his home, where he held Sheriff O'Dell and a posse of deputies at bay for hours and then committed suicide. The identity of the writer was not disclosed.

Capt. Deheuvel, master of the steamer Nieuw Amsterdam, said yesterday in New York that the waters at the southern end of the North Sea the Straits of Dover and the English Channel are more dangerous now than at any time since war began. Both mines and submarines infest the waters, and it was only by having two big ocean-going tugs towing a flotilla of life rafts and life boats, convoy the steamer out of Rotterdam, that the fireroom crew consented to make the voyage.

The Union Pacific Overland Limited westbound passenger train, the finest train on the Union Pacific system, was held up last night, five miles west of Cheyenne, Wyo., by a lone bandit. The bandit lined the passengers up as he went through the sleepers, and got about $500 in cash and a large amount of jewelry. After the robber had obtained all the cash and valuables he could from the passengers he jumped from the train at Corlet junctio nand escaped in the darkness.

Representatives of the Holland government arrived in New York yesterday to establish a permanent bureau for the purchase of supplies formerly obtained in Germany. They predicted an annual expenditure of at least $10,000,000, and declared that already orders approximating $5,000,000 had been placed here with American manufacturers. They said that the purchasing bureau here would be a permanent one and that the main purpose was to buy supplies of electrical equipment and machinery for Dutch colonial possessions.

Conservative and Socialistic Dutch newspapers are taking a determined stand for the employment of diplomatic and economic pressure against Germany by the neutral countries now suffering from what they term the German "submarine outrages." Several of these newspapers declare that there can be no other explanation of the deliberate attacks on neutral shipping than the determination of Germany to destroy as many ships of all nationalities as it can, so that when the war is ended, and the German merchant vessels are released, the latter will find no competition to hamper them in seizing the commerce of the world.

The administration has received intimations from Berlin that Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg will meet Secretary Lansing more than halfway in the submarine warfare controversy. The intimations received are such, it was asserted, as to remove the possible peril of a diplomatic break with Germany, despite the apparent seriousness of some of the cases pending, especially that of the Sussex, The statement was made that Germany in good faith made definite promises to the United States respecting her conduct of submarine activities, but that she never committed herself to a policy that would prevent her attacking armed enemy vessels. Her pledges related only to noncombatant unarmed merchant ships.

Whereas, the assessed value of the lands annexed to the City of Alexdria from the County of Alexandria at the time of annexation amounted to the sum of One hundred and seventy-one thousand three hundred and eighty-five dollars ($171,385.00) and the value of the lands annexed to the City of Alexandria from the county of Fairfax at the time of annexation amounted to Three hundred and ninety-five thousand, eight hundred and seventy-eight dollars and ninety cents ($395,878.90). As the total assessed values of the lands annexed under the decree of March 22, 1915 in the aggregate amounted to Five hundred and sixty seven thousand, two hundred and sixty-three dollars and ninety cents ($567,263.90) twelve per centum of which is equal to Sixty eight thousand, seventy-one dollars and sixty-six cents (68,071.66) from which must be deducted eleven thousand one hundred and eleven dollars and forty-two cents ($11,111.42) which has been set aside and expended in the annexed territory for public improvements made under authority of an ordinance of the City Council of Alexandria approved July 16, 1915 and,

Whereas the assessed value of the land in that part of Alexandria County annexed to the City of Alexandria at the time of annexation amounted to One hundred and seventy-one thousand, three hundred and eighty-five dollars ($171,385.00) twelve per centum of which amounts to Twenty thousand five hundred and sixty-six dollars and twenty cents ,($20,566.20) to be expended in public improvements and as three hundred and thirty-nine dollars and sixty-five cents ($399.65) has been so expended, the unexpended portion twenty thousand two hundred twenty-six dollars and fifty-five cents ($20,226.55) is set aside for further public improvements in the territory annexed from Alexandria County, and,

As the assessed value of land in that part of Fairfax County annexed to the City of Alexandria at the time of annexation amounted to Three hundred ninety-five thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight dollars and ninety cents ($395,878.90) twelve per centum of which amounts to Forty seven thousand five hundred and five dollars and forty-six cents ($47,505.46) to be expended in public improvements, and as Ten thousand seven hundred and seventy one dollars and seventy-seven cents ($10,771.77) has been so expended, the unexpended portion Thirty-six thousand seven hundred and thirty-three dollars and sixty nine cents ($36,733.69) is set aside for further public improvements in the territory annexed from Fairfax County.

Whereas the City of Alexandria expressed its intention and desire by an ordinance approved July 16, 1915, to avail itself of the provisions of section 3 of an act of the General Assembly approved March 10, 1904 providing for the extension of the corporate limits of cities and towns, where it is provided that the Council of a City or Town may by ordinance set apart a sum equal to twelve per centum of the assessed value at the time of annexation of the lands annexed, which sum so set apart shall be wholly expended in and for the benefit of the annexed territory in public improvements.

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the Council of the City of Alexandria:

1. That in order to set aside and obtain the said sum of sixty-eight thousand, seventy-one dollars and sixty-six cents ($68,071.66) the Auditor of the City of Alexandria under the direction of the Committee on Finance of the City Council is hereby authorized and instructed to issue. The bonds hereby authorized shall be sold at such times and in such amounts as the Committee on Finance may direct.

2. Of the proceeds of the bonds twenty thousand five hundred and sixty-six dollars and twenty cents ($20,566.20) is set aside to be applied to the improvement of territory formerly part of Alexandria County annexed to the City of Alexandria April 1, 1915, which sum to set apart shall be drawn upon only for public improvements within the said annexed territory.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 123

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Alexandria

Scores of Alexandria people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

W. Dawson, blacksmith, 409 N. West St., Alexandria, says: "My back was so weak and sore that I could hardly pick anything off the floor. I couldn't straighten up without taking hold of something and it nearly killed me to get up in the morning. Sharp shooting pains caught me in the small of my back and I thought I would have to give up. Finally I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from C. W. Sumer.' Drug Store, and the first few doses convinced me that they were the medicine I needed. After finishing one box, my back felt so strong that I could work all day and not feel any the worse for it. Now, I take Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as my kidneys get a little bit out of order, for I know there isn't anything their equal.

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dawson had. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
